

チン ユヒン

陳 宇軒

Cellphone: +81 080-6121-5778

Email Address: earlyspringa@gmail.com

Current Postal Address: 3 Chome-6-12 Hotarugaike Nakamachi, Toyonaka, Osaka 560-0033

Brief Introduction: I graduated from Guangdong University of Foreign Studies in 2020, with an Overall Grading of 85.3/100 and GPA 3.47/4.0. After graduation, I worked as an oral translator and customer service manager in a small business company for a year. And I was admitted to University of Tsukuba in Japan and obtained master's degree of International Public Policy, with an Overall GPA of 4.05/4.3. Currently I am a doctoral student in The University of Osaka majoring in Economics.

Research Field: Household Economics; Population Economics; Labor Economics.

Software: STATA, R.

Educational Background

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---|
| Apr 2023-April 2027(Expected) | Ph.D. in Economics, from Graduate School of Economics, in The University of Osaka, Japan. |
| Oct 2021-Mar 2023 | Master of International Public Policy, from Graduate School of Business Science, Humanities and Social Sciences, in The University of Tsukuba, Japan. |
| Sept 2016-July 2020 | Bachelor of Arts, from Schools of English for International Business, in Guangdong University of Foreign Studies, China. |
-

Papers (As of August 2026)

Published Papers

1. "Fiscal Compensation and Income Resilience under an External Shock: Evidence from Hubei, China", Economics Analysis and Policy, Accepted in Aug, 2026.

Working Papers:

2. Intergenerational Spillover Effects of Pension Receipt on Marriage: Evidence from China. Currently under external reviewed by Review of Economics of the Household.
3. Labor Demand Shock and Employment Vulnerability in Japan's Dual Labor Market. Currently under review by Empirical Economics.
4. Intergenerational Spillover Effects of Pension on Fertility: Evidence from China.

Currently reviewed by China and World Economy.

Other Academic Activities

1. Japanese Economic Association Autumn Meeting 2025 (Hirosaki, Aomori) , Poster Presentation
 2. Japanese Economic Association Spring Meeting 2026 (Osaka), Poster Presentation
 3. Japanese Economic Association Autumn Meeting 2026 (Tokyo), Poster Presentation
 4. Reviewer for Journal of Asian Economics
-

Research Experience during Undergraduate Study

1. “Empirical Research on Connectedness for International Trade and Investment between Guangzhou and Countries along B&R Based on PVAR Test”, IOP Conference Series: Earth and Environmental Science, February 26, 2019, 233(4):042036, the third author.

2. National Natural Science Foundation of China (NSFC) (7160031400): Research on the Implementing Effect and Function Mechanism of China's Industrial Policy, from the Perspective of Supply Growth and Supply Structure. As a participant with several other research projects in the same research team.

Language

Chinese and Cantonese:	Mother language
English:	IELT 7.5 TOFEL 104 (Both Level C1 in European Level)
Japanese:	JLPT N1

Internship and Working Experience

May-July 2019	Foreign Communication Officer and Event Staff in Canton Affair
July 2020-Sept 2021	Oral Translator and Customer Service Manager, Shiyizhong Co. Ltd, Guangzhou Branch
Jan 2025-	Part Time English and Chinese tour guide in Osaka and Kyoto.

Self-Assessment

I consider myself a researcher with multiple educational backgrounds not only in Business and Economics. I always manage to perfectly and sufficiently finish the assigned tasks and thus gradually become a reliable colleague and team member in various situations.
